"GREAT WESTERN"

BEST INVESTMENT IN THE WORLD TO-DAY.

Dated Redding, California, Aug. 21. "T. S. Henderson & Co., St. Louis, Mo.: I have just returned from a visit to the Afterthought with my wife. Mr. Wool, foreman, took us through all of the tunnels, and we were simply astounded at the amount of work and the great bodies of ore. There are thousands of tous in sight. We drove out in a buggy, met a twelve-horse team, inquired the way to Afterthought, and asked what he was hauling. Said he was hauling Great Western smelter, only lacked one load of having it all on the ground.

"I found men at work on smelter site, on different tunnels, on water right, foundation for engines. I want to say to stockholders that I saw their dividends in the way of ore, also enough ore to make parvalue of stock, and ten times amount of work I expected to find. It is only a matter of time when we will be one of the greatest companies in Shasta County. You cannot put toomuch force on estimating value of our property.

S. H. WATKINS."

Shasta County. You cannot put foomuch force on estimating value of our property.

S. H. WATKINS."

Mr. Watkins lives at Woodlawn, Ill., and was formerly County Treasurer of his county—many of you met him at the stockholders' meeting, and know that his word is as good as gold. Honorable W. D. Pratt says: "You are the most fortunate man that ever came to Shasta County, in securing this property for less than half a million dollars. I consider it a million-dollar mine." Judge Rickel, of Cedar Ranids, says: "I tell you, just as surely as you and I live, these mines will make fortunes for the stockholders of the Great Western." W. G. Scott and M. E. Dittmar say: "Afterthought will rank with the best mines on Shasta County's great mineral belt." We say Great Western gold stock is the best investment in the world to-day. We say Great Western gold stock is the best investment in the world to-day. If you want to own an interest in real mines, buy Great Western at ten cents per share. Par value is Si. Market letters free. Your time is short. We believe the profit on our present plant will be $150,000 per month. Cut it in half three or four times, and it is a big thing. A few dollars invested in Great Western will start you on the road to fortune. T. S. HENDERSON & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Treasury Statement.

WALL STREET CONTINUES ITS BUSINESS DECLINE.

DEALINGS AT LOW MARK AND PRICE CHANGES SMALL.

Brokers Who Have Remained Active Complain That Their Efforts Have Little Effect.

New York, Aug. 25.-Nothing worthy of extended comment was accomplished by to-day's meager bidding in stocks, either in the way of distribution of securities or price changes. The volume of dealings fell another notch toward absolute stagnation, with a total for the day of only about 200,000 shares, and the cases in which the price variations reached a point were very few. It was observed that the telephon calls on the exchange and the annunciator calls to members by number were extraordinarily few, which is regarded as evidence that very little business originated outside the exchange. Even the professional op-erators of larger caliber are going away erators of larger caliber are going away for delayed vacations, which have been prevented heretofore by the troubled state of the market, and the smaller class of room traders have the market to themselves. It is the complaint amongst these that when they offer prices down they are unable to force any renewal of liquidation, and that they soon meet supporting orders, while if they attempt a turn on the long side of the market they are unable to find a satisfactory market to realize on at any advance in prices.

UNDERTONE HEAVY. heavy, but the only apparent reason for upward, thus exhausting the limits of the small traders in the decline. Attention in the financial districts is centered upon the money markes, rather than upon stocks. To-day's official admission that the efforts of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company to secure subscriptions to its bond issue had failed, was another example of the extreme difficulty at present of inducing capital to assume any fixed form. There is continued unwillingness to lend money on time, and rates are strongly held, although there is little demand for loans of this class, owing to the extreme dullness in the stock market. But commercial paper of the hixhest grade finds a difficult market.

There were further offerings of bunkers finance bills in the foreign exchange market to-day, which caused a yielding tone in spite of a hardening tendency in discounts at London and Paris. Attention was attracted to the returns of the Canadian banks for July, which show a falling off in the loans on call in the United States by these institutions of more than $14,000,000 in twelve months, while current loans in the United States were reduced by about $8,000,000. money market, rather than upon stocks.

This helps to explain the persistent main-tenance of the loan accounts of our own banks in face of the heavy stock-market liquidation. The market strength of silver is also a feature of the situation, to-day's rise to 56%c an oz. marking the highest level touched since November of 1101. It is believed that the London dealers have oversold the market, and are now covering, and there is some special buying for mintage purposes by the French Government. Attaison had some advantage from its July statement of earnings, showing an increase of $258,831 in the net conserved out of an increase of $588,85 in the gross. Erie and Reading were also relatively firm on the expectation of a very favorable showing in the forthcoming annual reports. There was profit taking in cotton, but wheat advanced on unfavorable crop news, and corn showed some strength.

The bond market was exceedingly dull, but steady. Total sales, par value, $1,250,000, United States 2s advanced % per cent on the last call. liquidation. The market strength of silver

SUMMARY OF THE ST. LOUIS

Sentiment was all bullish in yesterday's local wheat market. Weather were the main influence and the news came so strong that the shorts were eager to cover and the longs had sufficient confidence in their position to add to their lines. All of the early bullish information came from abroad. The weather was said to be unof the early bullish information came from abroad. The weather was said to be unfavorable in England, France and Germany, and cables were generally higher. There was an excellent foreign inquiry throughout the session, with clearances larger than they had been for several days. Rain had fallen in many sections of the winter belt, where the moisture would interfere with harvesting, and more precipitation was threatened, in the Northwest. Local conditions also favored an advance. Receipts were light, and there was an excellent cash demand from all classes of spot buyers. BULLISH WEATHER NEWS

FOREIGN ADVICES FAVOR THE BUYING SIDE.

Corn Shows Some Early Strength and Closes Slightly Higher Despite Light Trading.

Bullish weather conditions at home and abroad caused a sharp advance in grain values. Locally the upward movement was furthered by an excellent cash demand and a generally bullish speculative sentiment. Reports of damage in the principal European wheat-growing countries and fear of similar conditions in the Northwest formed the short the short of the sho forced the shorts to cover and induced the dongs to add to their lines. The Dec. op-t'on was the favorite in speculative trading. Local receipts were light and the clearances
